To Whom It May Concern:

The California Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986 (proposition 65) is a California State law that has been in effect since 1986. This law requires the State of California to publish a list of chemicals that are known to cause cancer, birth defects or other reproductive harm. The list must be updated on an annual basis and currently contains more than 800 substances.

Proposition 65 requires that those selling product in the state of California give notice to anyone facing risk of exposure whenever any of the items on the State Proposition 65 list are present in the products being sold. This allows those who may come in contact with the products or toxins to determine their level of personal risk.

Printgear is aware that the California Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment (OEHHA) has recently adopted new regulations that significantly increase the product content warning and labeling that is required for compliance. Anyone that produces or sells products containing any of the chemicals listed on the OEHHA website is required to label the product with a warning label and an accompanying yellow and black warning symbol and that these warnings are listed for each of the categories of risk-Cancer, Birth Defect or Reproductive Harm. The specific warnings must list at least one of the known chemicals that are found present in the product.

Printgear has always been committed to protecting both our customers and our environment from harm and degradation. In order to comply with the new Proposition 65 requirements in California and to further Printgear's commitment to its customers, we ask that Augusta Sportswear comply with Proposition 65 by either providing a corporate letter of product compliance with Proposition 65 OR listing below any product (Style, Color, etc) that is known to be of risk or might therefore require warning labeling. Please add additional pages if needed.

Brand	Supplier Style (and Color if needed)	Description of Product

In the event that no warning labeling is necessary on any of your product, please state below how Augusta Sportswear ensures its products comply with California Proposition 65.

All Augusta Sportswear branded products have been tested and comply with Proposition 65 and do not require a warning label.
